Cosmonaut Still Up; Reports All Is Going Well

British Scientists Say Flight May Last For Several Days

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union rocketed a third man into orbit today on a flight that British scientists thought might last several days, dwarfing the 25-hour, 17-orbit journey of cosmonaut Gherman Titov.

Vostok III blasted off at 11:30 a.m. Moscow time (3:30 a.m. EST) carrying Maj. Andrian Griegorievich Nikolayev, 32, a veteran flier who was a stand-in for Titov and the Soviet Union's first cosmonaut, Maj. Yuri Gagarin.

Tass news agency said Nikolayev (pronounced nee-koh-lah-yehv) radioed he was feeling fine hours

Russia Asks U.S. To Cease Testing

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union has asked the United States to refrain from nuclear tests that might endanger its new cosmonaut, Andrian Nikolayev, now orbiting the earth.

The broadcast said the message asserted the flight of Vostok III is peaceful space exploration "and corresponds with the interests of all nations."

after completing his first girdling of the globe in 88.5 minutes on an orbit that carried him about 150 miles up.

The flight broke a year-long lull in the Soviet man-in-space program.

Hours after the launching, neither Moscow Radio nor Tass had anything more to say on how many orbits Nikolayev had made, how many he would make, or other details.

This contrasted with the running stream of information poured out when Titov made his historic flight.

It was recalled, however, that Titov said recently longer space flights would be coming soon.

In Britain, Sir Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank radio telescope station, said the flight may last several days, adding that, "This would represent a rapid stride in the Russian attempt to get a man on the moon."

Other British scientists also took the view that this third space flight would surpass that of Titov.

The official Soviet announcement said the flight was to obtain additional data on the effect of space flight conditions on the human body, to study man's capacity to work in the condition of weightlessness found on space flights, and to make further improvements on space ship systems of communications, control and landing.

The study of weightlessness was emphasized by Tass. It noted that Gagarin on the first manned orbital flight April 12, 1961, endured the condition little more than an hour on his one-orbit journey.

"The flight of Soviet cosmonaut 3 is one more step in man's conquest of the universe, in solving the all-important problem of the effects of the space flight on the human organism," Tass added.

The agency said all the instruments and systems aboard the space ship were functioning accurately and "the systems of regulation and air conditioning kept up the necessary temperature, pressure and humidity."

It said Nikolayev is transmitting.

Rebels Demand Ouster of President Guido

Argentine Leaders Confer on Ways to Head Off Civil War

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rebel army troops vowing to oust President Jose Maria Guido halted their armed march on the capital early today while top Argentine leaders conferred on ways to avoid bloodshed. The rebels reportedly were demanding establishment of a military dictatorship.

Loyalist army troops, backed by tanks and other armored vehicles, were poised on the other side of Buenos Aires. Sailors and marines blockaded approaches to the city under orders to head off an army clash.

The navy intervention, ostensibly in a peace-making role, appeared to favor the rebels. Insurgent troops aided the marines and sailors in obstructing the advance of loyalist troops from the south.

Scattered shooting broke out in the city, but no major fighting was reported.

Guido met with rebel leader Maj. Gen. Federico Toranzo Montero at the president's suburban residence in an effort to find a solution to the three-day-old crisis, Argentina's third major upheaval in four months.

Guido had already given in to the rebel demand when he fired controversial Secretary Lt. Gen. Eduardo Senorans early today after Senorans had been in office only 12 hours. Senorans was the second war secretary to quit in two days at the demand of Toranzo Montero.

Toranzo Montero, pint-sized commander of the 4th Army Corps with headquarters in Salta, launched his rebellion Wednesday when he went to the remote city of Juju, 800 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, and proclaimed himself army commander in chief. He demanded that Guido fire Juan Bautista Loza, war minister and army commander in chief. Loza quit that night.

Guido's appointment of Senorans-fired the crisis once again.

The rebels demanded that the post go to Lt. Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arana, and declared "We will fight" rather than accept Senorans.

Senorans served as the first chief of staff after the military ousted dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955. Ossorio Arana was his successor. He is considered more adamantly anti-Peronist.

Toranzo Montero, imprisoned three years under the Peron dictatorship, came to Buenos Aires Friday but boycotted the meeting that Defense Minister Jose Luis Cantillo called to select Loza's successor.

Toranzo Montero instead went to the Palermo headquarters of the 1st Army mobile division in the northwest part of the Buenos Aires federal district to await the meeting's decision.

On learning of Senorans' selection, a rebel spokesman declared: "Combat is the only an-

Outlook for Cut Seems Dim

JFK To Give Tax Decision Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will tell American taxpayers Monday whether he thinks an immediate tax cut is needed to feed more dollars into the sputtering economy.

The announcement that he will "discuss the nation's economy" on radio and television at 7 p.m. EDT Monday came after a White House conference on Friday between Kennedy and his top economic advisers.

Talk at the high-level meeting centered on the figures for the economy in July—the indicators Kennedy said would help him decide whether the economy needs more fuel to start it climbing again.

Some of the indicators point up, causing a rush of reports that Kennedy has made up his mind not to ask for an immediate cut but to stick to his plans for a reduction effective Jan. 1.

But the bare White House statement went no farther than saying he will discuss the economy.

In any case, Kennedy is expected to reiterate his opinion that personal and corporate income taxes should come down—with the reduction effective not later than Jan. 1—and to press again for congressional action on other measures he has proposed to needle the economy.

His half-hour talk will be carried live by the ABC, CBS and NBC television networks in the Eastern and Central time zones, and replayed from tape at 7 p.m. local daylight time in the Mountain and Pacific time zones. All radio networks, including Mutual, will carry it live at 7 p.m. EDT.

The July figures Kennedy and his advisers are using to chart the economy's current health re-

$1,175,000 In Realty Tax Funds Shared

A total of $1,175,000 in advance payment of real estate taxes, collected for last-half of 1961, was distributed Thursday by Columbiana County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

A breakdown shows $1,007,370 was sent to school districts; $98,580 to cities and villages and $68,750 to townships.

It is hoped that this advance payment will keep a number of school districts from borrowing money to meet their payrolls and operational expenses.

Distributions are:
SCHOOL DISTRICTS—East Liverpool, $213,080; Salem, $216,680; Wellsville, $53,670; Lisbon, $60,000; Beaver Local $65,600; Columbiana $55,330; East Palestine, $66,990; Fairfield-Waterford, $49,980; Leetonia, $44,120; Alliance, $630; Minerva $23,680; Southern Local $62,100; United Local, $54,360 and West Branch, $41,800.

CITIES AND VILLAGES—East Liverpool, $43,130; Salem, $21,420; East Palestine, $5,340; Wellsville, $10,160; Rogers, $160; New Waterford, $1,410; Columbiana, $4,700; Saineville, $1,650; Lisbon, $4,030; Washingtonville $970; Leetonia, $5,260; Hanoverton, $200 and Summitville, $450.

Railroad-Labor Solution Nears

Showdown on Dispute Expected Next Week

CHICAGO (AP) — A drive to bring economy to the nation's ailing railroads—at the expense of thousands of workers who would lose their jobs—is inching toward what one railroad spokesman calls "a final solution."

On Monday, says Howard Neitzert, chief attorney for the railroads, an appeal will be filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court will be asked to vacate a temporary restraining order and allow the nation's rail operators to proceed with a half-billion dollar economy move.

The railroads want to put into effect a drastic revision of work rules that eventually would eliminate 65,000 jobs which the railroads consider unnecessary.

They would begin by immediately eliminating the jobs of 40,000 firemen who presently ride the cabs of freight and yard diesels.

The railroads proposed to put the new work rules into effect next Thursday — a plan that touched off a hectic week of legal wrangling that probably will dump the matter at the doorstep of the White House.

The week began with a request by five operating unions, repre-

Secret Report Proposes Change

Shakeup Urged In Job Rights Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A still secret report by a New York labor lawyer proposes a top level shakeup of President Kennedy's committee on equal job rights for Negroes, a well placed government source said today.

As outlined by the government source, the proposed reorganization may well turn out to be political dynamite for the Kennedy administration among Negro voters.

The report was prepared by Theodore Kheel at the request of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. It advises, the source said, that the government emphasize voluntary rather than compulsory compliance with Kennedy's anti-discrimination employment order for contractors doing business with it.

John Field, executive director of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, has told his staff that if the plan is carried through, he will resign. Field is known through the government as a strong advocate of enforcing the President's anti-discrimination order.

Robert Troutman Jr. of Atlanta, Ga., a friend of Kennedy and also a close friend of Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., has set up a separate program based on voluntary rather than compulsory compliance.

Troutman, a member of the President's committee, calls his voluntary program the "plan for progress."

El Al Cancels Soblen's Flight

Say Plane Needs Crack Inspection

LONDON (AP)—Israel's El Al Airline cancelled today the New York-bound flight which Britain said must take fugitive spy Dr. Robert Soblen back to the United States.

The Israeli national airline, which has failed to meet three British deadlines for getting Soblen back to America, said in Tel Aviv the flight had been cancelled because the Boeing 707 jetliner was "undergoing ultrasonic structural crack inspection" on the manufacturer's orders.

British Home Secretary Henry Brooke was reported giving urgent consideration to the latest impasse in his efforts to expel the 61-year-old psychiatrist, who faces a life prison term for passing wartime U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union.

The El Al flight originally was scheduled to arrive Friday, but was postponed until today by what a spokesman said was mechanical trouble with one of the plane's engines. He said the difficulty had "no connection with Dr. Soblen."

When the midnight deadline passed, the Home Office ordered the Israeli national airline specifically to take Soblen on the rescheduled flight.

The next regularly scheduled El

Pressroom Trouble Delayed Friday Paper

The Salem News appreciates and acknowledges the patience of 3,000 customers in the city who did not receive their Friday edition of The News until late in the evening.

Some 8,000 other copies of the paper had already been printed when electrical failure on a control panel in the pressroom caused the press to suddenly stop. When it appeared that electricians were going to have difficulty in tracing the trouble, page forms were removed from the press and taken to the News' sister paper, the East Liverpool Review, where the "run" was completed.

Despite the late hour, city carriers saw that all the remaining papers were delivered.

David, Frank Kalbfell Victims On Rural Road

Car Skids After Coming Over Hill; Probe Continues

Five children of Mr. and Mrs. William Kalbfell of RD 3, Salem, were playing along the Cunningham Rd., three miles east of Salem, Friday at 4 p.m. when an auto operated by Richard W. Dickey, 19, of 550 Ohio Ave. ran into the group, killing two of the youngsters and injuring two others.

Dead are:

David William, 11, who was pronounced dead on arrival at the Salem City Hospital due to a crushed right side of the chest and internal injuries.

Frank J., 5, who died in the emergency room at the hospital from shock caused by multiple fractures and internal injuries.

Injured are:

Marie Annette, 13, who received multiple lacerations of the body and abrasions. She is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital.

Joseph Lee, 4, who suffered lacerations of the chest and shoulders and abrasions. He underwent surgery for deep cuts on the right arm and upper left shoulder. He is in fair condition at City Hospital.

Another son, Edwin, 8, escaped injury.

Scene of the tragedy was three quarters of a mile south of the Butcher Road.

Applies Brakes, Skids

The State Patrol reported that Dickey was traveling north on the rural road and as he reached the crest of the hill he saw children on both sides of the road. Dickey applied his brakes, but only one side of the brakes took hold, the Patrol said, and the car slid out of control to the right side of the road, then across the highway, hit the children and landed in a ditch on the left side. The driver was not hurt.

The Patrol said that the automobile slid over 100 feet but that he was not traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

All of the children were brought to Salem City Hospital.

Investigation is still pending, the Patrol reported.

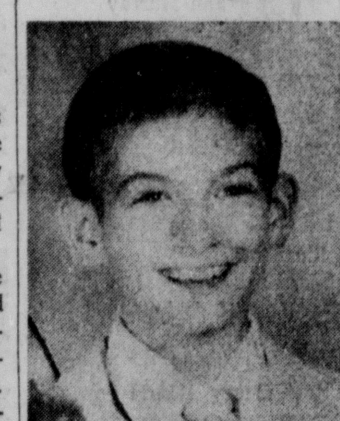

Double Funeral Services

David was born Sept. 11, 1950, in Salem and Frank was born here Sept. 5, 1956, the sons of William and Betty Davis Kalbfell. They attended the Phillip's Christian Church. David was in the sixth grade at United Local School and was a member of the Cub Scouts.

Survivors besides their parents include, a sister, Marie Annette, and four brothers, Joseph, Jack,

It'll Be 150th Anniversary

Friends Program Set
For Aug. 21-26 Session

Two missionary brothers, an internationally-known minister, and a pageant entitled "Faith of Our Fathers" will highlight the program of the 150th anniversary Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends Aug. 20-26 at Damascus. By a proclamation of Gov. DiSalle that week has been designated Quaker Week in Ohio.

A record crowd is expected, including delegates and representatives from 89 churches located in Ohio, Michigan, Virginia, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Rhode Island and Ontario, Canada.

The brothers are Dr. Charles E. DeVol of Taipei, Taiwan, superintendent of 13 Friends Churches in Formosa, and Dr. W. Ezra DeVol of Chhatapur, India, superintendent of the American Friends Mission in Central India. Sons of the late Drs. George and Isabella French DeVol, both were born in China, where their parents were medical missionaries. Aside from his missionary duties, Charles teaches in the Department of Science at the National University in Taipei. He is also president of the Formosa Christ-erican College of Surgeons and charge of the India Mission Hospital, is a member of the American College of Surgeons and the International College of Surgeons.

Both brothers and their families have arrived in the States. Dr. Ezra and his wife, Frances, and sons are now living at the mission house in Damascus. Charles and Leora DeVol arrived this week.

The DeVols are scheduled to speak at six services during the sessions of the Yearly Meeting, including the Men in Missions session, morning youth meetings Tuesday through Friday, and the annual missionary service Aug. 26 at 2:30 p.m.

Leora and Frances DeVol will have part in the Women's Missionary Union meeting Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. and the youth meeting Saturday at 8 a.m.

Dr. Paul S. Rees of Minneapolis, Minn., vice president of World Vision, Inc., will be guest speaker at the expository hour at 11 a.m., daily, Tuesday through Saturday, and will also preach at evening gospel services Tuesday through Friday.

Sesquicentennial Speakers

The Sesquicentennial Emphasis is set for Tuesday through Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Speakers and their topics are as follows:

Tuesday—"The History of the Church," Dr. Everett L. Cattell, president of Malone College; Wednesday—"The History of Our Pastoral System," Prof. Amos N. Henry of Canton; Thursday—"The History of Our College," Dr. Byron L. Osborne of North Canton; Friday—"The History of Our Missions," Rev. Chester G. Stanley of Damascus, general superintendent.

Saturday, Aug. 25, has been designated as Homecoming Day, when the pageant depicting church activities for 150 years will be presented three times. At 1:30, 3 and 7:30 p.m.

Written by Mrs. Milford Landwert of Salem, the pageant is expected to attract wide interest. There will be three acts with four scenes in each one. There are 30 players in the cast.

All general business sessions will be presided over by Rev. Harold B. Winn of Salem, who succeeds Prof. Ora Lovell of Louisville, as presiding clerk. Other clerks are:

Recording, Rev. Kenneth Headland of Grinnell, Ia., formerly of Salem; directory clerk, Rev. David Myton of Springfield; reading, Rev. Ralph Smallwood of Greensboro, N. C.; announcing, Rev. Charles Robinson of Norfolk, Va.; page, Rev. John Brantingham of Norwalk, O.

Leaders for the daily Prayer and Praise services at 8:15 a.m., include:

Rev. Paul Williams of RD 1, Radnor, O.; Rev. Fred Lippitt of Mt. Gilead; Rev. William Waltz of Quaker Hill, Sebring; Rev. Donald Heaton, Lupton, Mich.; Rev. Earl Kelbaugh of Paul Osborne of Reidsville, O. The delegate meeting is set for Tuesday at 6 p.m. and the Ministry and Oversight body sessions will be held Wednesday and Friday at 3:30 p.m.

Children's meetings will be held daily at 9:30, except Saturday, in the Damascus church, under the direction of Mrs. David Myton of Springfield. Junior Church is scheduled for 11 a.m., daily, except Saturday.

While the pageant is being presented in the Yearly Meeting House Saturday at 7:30 p.m., a gospel service will be held in the church with Dr. Charles DeVol, speaker. Prof. Amos Henry will preside. Ministers and missionaries will be dedicated.

ine Services Last Day

On Sunday, always the biggest day of the week from the standpoint of attendance, there will be nine services. They are as follows:

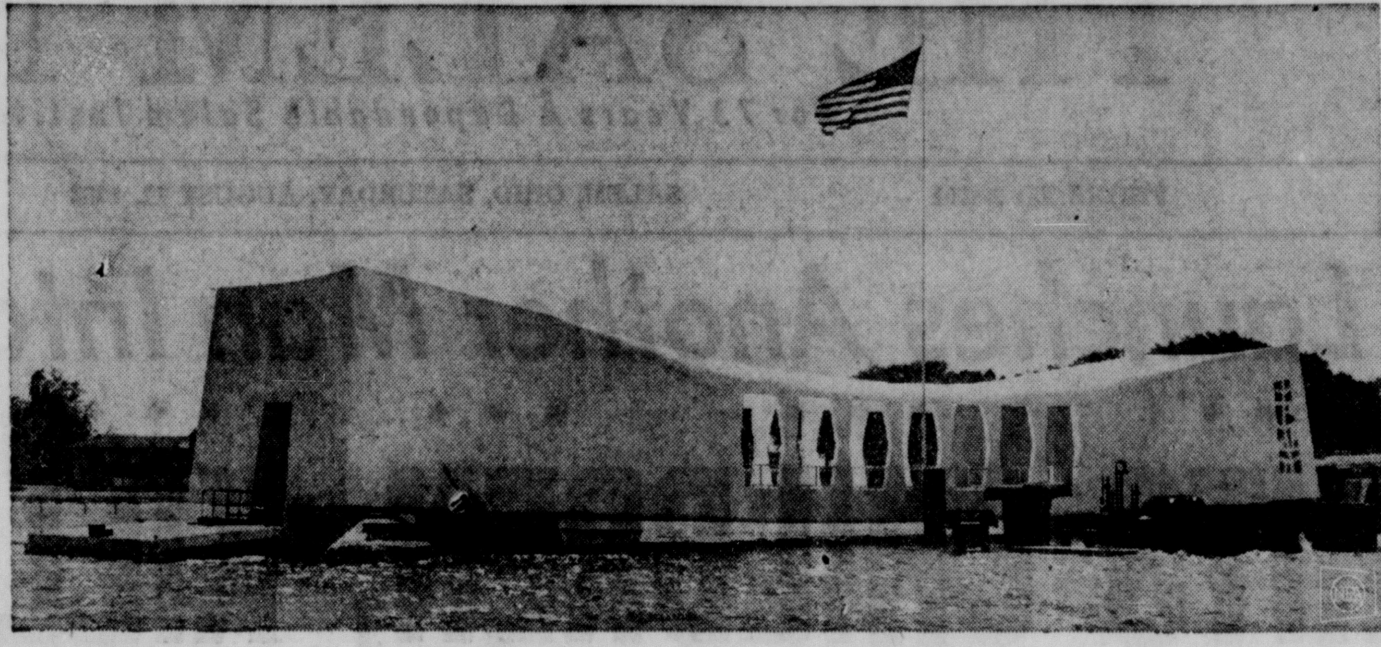

Prayer and Praise, 8:15 a.m., Rev. Osborne, leader; Bible School session, 9:30 a.m., Dr. William F. Moore, Christian psychiatrist, speaker; worship services, 10:30 a.m., YMH, Rev. Clarence R. Sekerak, pastor of East Goshen Friends Church, and in Damascus church, Rev. Kenneth Jones of West Mansfield, speakers.

Special service in the interest of the Columbus Friends Home, 1:30 p.m., in the YMH with Dr. Moore, speaker; Missionary services at 2:30 p.m., YMH and local church, Drs. DeVols, speakers; concluding Gospel services at 7:30 p.m., YMH and Damascus church, Rev. William Atchison, pastor of the Winona Friends Church and Rev. Leonard Borton of Battle Creek, Mich., speakers.

Music for the YM sessions will be in charge of Rev. Earl M. Smith of Cleveland and Rev. Howard Jacob of Williamsport, Pa.

Special features planned for Monday evening are a dinner meeting of the Men in Missions group at West Branch School, Dr. Charles DeVol, speaker, and a musical service.

Thermopylae, famous mountain pass of ancient Greece, no longer exists. It is now a wide, marshy plain, but the medicinal hot springs which gave the name still bubble forth.

IN MEMORIAM — USS Arizona Memorial at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, honors the 2,335 American servicemen who died during the Dec. 7, 1941 attack. The white concrete structure is built atop the rusting hulk of the Arizona in which are entombed 1,022 men who went down with her. Memorial is 184 feet in length and is reached by harbor boat.

Lutheran Men to Have Corn Roast,
Hear Rev. Miller

Members of Noco-Soma, Lutheran men's organization, of area churches will have a corn roast at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Greenford Lutheran Church.

Rev. Jerry H. Miller, director of Christian Education of the Synod of Ohio, will be the guest speaker.

Formerly pastor of Good Shepherd Church, Kenwood, a suburb of Cincinnati, the Rev. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Salem High School, Harvard University and Hamma Divinity School. He spent an intern year at the student church at Cornell University and served as summer minister at Crater Lake National Park, Ore., and Lebanon, Ind.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duber Miller of E. Pershing St.

Rev. Mamie Headland of Grinnell, Iowa, formerly of Salem, will have charge of vacation Bible school Aug. 13-17 at the Southeast Friends Church.

Classes will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and will be for children from three years old through high school.

Rev. Tegeler to Talk

At Calvary Baptist

Rev. Carl Tegeler of Grundy, Va., assistant director of the Southern Highland Evangel, will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Tegeler has served as missionary-pastor at Grundy for nine years and aside from his pastoral duties, his work includes jail services, radio broadcasts, boys club work and summer camp. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

A Want Ad Can find it for you!

Dial ED 2-4601

7:30—Ch. 8, Perry Mason: "The Case of the Wayward Wife." Even though his book is bringing in money, Ben Sutton keeps borrowing money from his brother-in-law. To make matters worse, a man named Arthur Poe shows up and claims that he is the author of the book.

8—Ch. 5, Room For One More: "The Real George." George and Anna have family problems when the children find out that someone is willing to give them a horse.

8:30—Ch. 8, Defenders: "The Best Defense." Disbarred attorney Warren Sperling asks the Prestons to defend his friend Floyd Harker, a gangland figure who has been charged with murder.

9—Ch. 3, Saturday Night at the Movies: "The Black Rose." Tyrone Power stars as Walter of Gurne, a Saxon who joins Tristram Griffen and his men in an attempt to free Saxon prisoners being held by the Norman king.

9:30—Ch. 5, Football: The Cleveland Browns and the Detroit Lions battle in an exhibition game 10—Ch. 35, Invitation to Paris: Top French performers such as Maurice Chevalier and Fernandel take part in a musical salute to Paris filmed on location.

Movies Tonight

11:20—Ch. 3, "The Outcast."

12:20—Ch. 5, "Swamp Water."

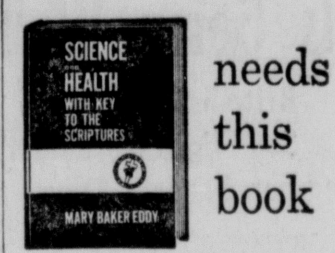

'Patriots For Christ'
Bible School Theme

"Patriots for Christ," will be the theme for vacation Bible School Monday through Aug. 24 at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Thrilling stories of Old and New Testament patriots and early missionaries and the ways in which these people shaped the destiny of nations will be presented in classes starting with children four years old through high school age.

Teaching in the school will be by following leaders: Beginners, Mrs. William Miller; primary, Mrs. Glen Metcalf; junior girls, Mrs. Mary Cleckner; junior boys, will be taught by Rev. Leslie Wells, pastor of the church.

Classes will begin at 9 a.m. and those wishing transportation are to call Rev. Wells.

to increase his capabilities

The challenge facing today's businessman is great. He must keep up-to-date, must look far ahead and be ready with new ideas in this changing world.

Many have found their capabilities in this direction have been enlarged as a result of their understanding of the truths contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

Mail Box Changes Are Made In City

A change in letter collection boxes in the city was announced today by Postmaster Ray Reasbeck.

The drive-up box in front of the old Post Office at State and Lincoln was moved one block west to a point on the north side of E. State St. opposite Penn Ave. This resulted in the elimination of only one parking meter but made for greater safety to mailing motorists, he said.

Plans are also in progress to locate an additional drive-up collection box on the south side of Columbia St. just east of the Penn Ave. intersection and across from the new Post Office which should aid motorists on their way home from the industrial plants.

Several small collection boxes in residential areas are being removed from service since test collections showed that these boxes were being used very little. In fact some of these boxes showed only two letters being deposited in them in a week and the cost of maintaining and servicing these boxes made them a liability, the postmaster explained.

The remaining boxes will continue to be collected by the regular foot carriers on their routes and by a special truck collection at 5 p.m. daily and at 3 p.m. on Sundays and holidays, Reasbeck said.

"New boxes will be established whenever the need for them becomes apparent," he added. "In this day most people mail from their cars and we are trying to make this type of mailing easier for them."

God's Greatest Gift

I saw a miracle today. I visited a family with a tiny baby, and as I looked at him and held his chubby hand in mine, I felt the thrill that comes to me each time I gaze upon a new life.

In my work as a minister, I call upon many families. I see many babies. Yet that thrill is always there. For of all God's great gifts, this is the greatest. Nowhere, I think, does His power stand more truly revealed to us than when we see a small being, created in His image.

As I held this baby today, I knew a special gladness because his parents are members of my church and stand ready to bring up their son in the full, rich light of religious training. Would that all blessed babes were so fortunate! It is God who gives us our children—but it is we who must teach them the meaning of His love, His truth, and His eternal understanding.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Extenuating Circumstances

Robert A. Soblen was sentenced to life imprisonment by Federal Judge William B. Herlands in Aug. 1961. At the time, it was medical opinion that leukemia would destroy his life in another year.

His crime was conspiracy to obtain and transmit American national defense secrets. "Such a crime is analogous to a conspiracy to commit mass murder," declared Judge Herlands. "The severity of the sentence must be consonant with the obvious character of the defendant's crime."

This is the man who has been kicked around like a soccer ball by politicians who cannot make up their minds to act in the public interest. If there has been one case without extenuating circumstances to justify special consideration, this is it—the case of Robert A. Solen, would-be mass murderer.

The climax of his crimes against the United States was reached when he jumped $100,000 bail, including $40,000 of his wife's savings. The medical opinion that leukemia was going to kill him within a year and thereby close his case forever has not been borne out by his continued activities; it has no more bearing on the case now than it had when Judge Herlands sentenced him.

Soblen came to the United States in 1941 from Lithuania. In 1940, Lavrenti Beria, head of the Soviet Union's secret police, conceived the idea of sending 15 members of the Soblen (Sobolevicius) family abroad. The respectable anti-Communist members would provide cover for Robert and his brother Jack, Communists since 1919.

Soblen spied on the U.S. Office of Strategic Services and passed information to Moscow. He spied on atomic secrets at Albuquerque, N.M. Jack Soblen confessed in 1957 and proved to be the principal witness against his own brother.

Yet in a bail-jumping situation the governments of Israel, Britain and the United States became so confused they could not serve their own citizens. Each was blaming the other over inability to get Soblen back to the United States, where he belonged.

In all truth the citizens of all three countries should be blaming the added minds of politicians who lost sight of their responsibility to serve their people.

A Pair of Familiar Names

Two Washington lawyers, who are a special breed in themselves, showed up to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against semi-private ownership of satellite communications this week.

These two were a special kind of a special kind, however. They were Benjamin V. Cohen and Joseph L. Rauh, names familiar to Americans whose memories run back to the first New Deal.

Both were distinguished members of the famous "hot dog" group, so called because their thinking had been influenced by the leader of all the "hot dogs" — Felix Frankfurter, then a law professor and later an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Cohen especially was to achieve national fame as the quiet member of the influential New Deal law-making team of Corcoran and Cohen, sometimes called the "Coke Dust Twins," after a trademark on a product advertised as capable of doing "all the work."

Corcoran—Thomas G.—also is a Washington lawyer these days.

In those days he and Cohen and Rauh and Tugwell and dozens of others were government lawyers. Their role was to draw pay for acting as "counselors" in various departments while actually spending all their time trying to spur creeping socialism into a gallop. One of Cohen's strokes of genius was the Tennessee Valley Authority—a distinguished stroke of spurring.

Testimony on complex issues sometimes is hard to understand. But there are times when the quickest way to understand the testimony is to identify the witness. It is not surprising that Rauh and Cohen were against semi-private ownership of satellite communications. As New Dealers they were not known to favor private ownership of anything that possibly could be captured alive by public ownership; i.e., politicians.

If There Had Been Doubt

An almost total lack of attention to the newest Berlin Wall is one of the hard-to-explain omissions in the routine flow of news from Germany.

A year ago when preparations for building the first Berlin Wall were under way and refugees were streaming out of East Germany, the world gave close attention to every move.

Speculation about the wall's significance ran wild at first, though later it settled down to the one likeliest explanation — that East Germany had become a vast prison compound, with escape to the west barred by a wall.

The first American reaction to the wall was to increase the number of U.S. troops in West Berlin. The Kennedy administration took precautions to be sure the West Germans and West Berliners especially knew the United States would stand by them. There was a moderate military buildup to make the promise tangible.

Only after sufficient time had passed to demonstrate that the Berlin Wall had only negative significance instead of positive significance was the explanation accepted that the wall had been erected to keep East Germans from getting away. Then, or July this year behind a screen of smoke and tear gas the Ulbrecht government, or the puppeteers behind it, began to build a wall between West Berlin and East Germany. This project now has been continuing for a month and a half.

The Berlin prison compound is being made more secure. The wall that eventually will encircle Berlin is to keep the prisoners in, not to keep intruders out. Who, these days, wants to be a prisoner so much he would break into East Berlin?

Any waiter is open to suggestion, always glad to get a good tip.

All Tranquil?

By Truman Twill

All of us would be better off if the current tranquilizer scare had happened early in the game, instead of late.

Now that worldwide publicity has been given to one tranquilizer that can cause women to conceive deformed infants perhaps more attention will be given to some other effects.

No reference is intended here to the use of tranquilizers in mental hospitals, or in situations of necessity under direct medical supervision. The subject under discussion is situation of convenience — the careless use of tranquilizers by people seeking easier terms for living with themselves.

It's risky business — riskier now than before because it has been learned that at least one of the "pacifiers" had a kickback that could carry through to the next generation.

All of them, in the shaking hands of people with the fidgets, pack a wallop that might stretch their users flat. It's not only what they do to the health of the physique that needs to be considered but what they can do to their users' point of view.

Life is real, life is earnest — that's the idea. It is not going to be changed by tranquilizers, whether they come in pills or glasses shoved over a bar.

Or perhaps the tranquilizers come out of a hypodermic needle plied by a drug addict, or a cigarette made of hashish, or an opium pipe, or betel nuts, or some other substance that fuzzes out the sharp outlines of the world's jagged edges.

What's the difference, aside from technical distinctions, between the effects?

The instant a human being is unable to look at things as they are and must distort the image of reality to make his life bearable he is "hooked" by his own habit.

Tranquilizers looked like the answer to the problems of millions who welcomed their advent in the midst of a 20th century chaos that had become unbearable.

They sounded better than sedatives and safer than alcohol. They would be easy to carry and respectable to use. As it was to turn out they were even to become fashionable.

People who took them were advertising that their lives contained too much tension to be bearable without outside support and since tension is one of the badges of success it was, ergo, the most successful people who were using tranquilizers and gulping ulcer-easers.

Those of us still chewing grass, fingernails and gum, or counting to 10, breathing deeply and clenching and unclenching our fists to calm down the fidgets wondered how long we could hold out against this modern trend.

Matter of fact, we succumbed to curiosity ourselves and tried the things to see what they did. Whether the result was to make us feel tranquil or stupefied wasn't easy to decide, so not many of us started the practice.

Tranquilizers are here to stay. They've done wonders in mental hospitals and in the hands of physicians who respected them.

But who wants to live in a world that has become a mental hospital?

Look Fellas, Enough Is Enough!

U.S. Deeply Involved

By TOM LAMBERT

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam — American involvement in South Viet Nam's bitterly brutal war with the Communists is mushrooming.

The volume of men, machines, money and effort being directed by Washington to this country to help scour the Communists out of its jungles, mountains, canals and rice fields seems to be expanding almost visibly.

American military spokesmen in Saigon adamantly refuse to disclose the number of U.S. servicemen now in South Viet Nam. But it probably is at least 9,000.

AS THEIR NUMBERS increase and as more of them go into the field with South Vietnamese combat forces it seems certain some of them will join the estimated 12 Americans already killed in clashes with Communists or in accidents in this country.

The increased American effort is evident in many ways and many places:

In whopping additions in the numbers of Americans on headquarters or field advisory duty with South Vietnamese forces. One year ago, for example, there were 14 Americans assigned to the South Vietnamese Army's Second Corps Headquarters in this mountain plateau town. There are at least four or five times that many today.

In scope and variety the jobs American servicemen are doing in South Viet Nam range from hush-hush "radio research" work by a Marine Corps unit based here to classes in guerrilla warfare being given by the U.S. Army's green-bereted special forces teams (they are called "Sneaky Pete's" by some of their servicemen colleagues), to loinclothed South Vietnamese mountain tribesmen.

IN SWELLING volume, American arms and equipment are being given to the South Vietnamese. New American Armatite rifles and M79 grenade launchers, probably scarce in most U.S. combat units, are being handed over to some South Vietnamese Rangers.

New American - purchased Schmeisser machine pistols are being given to some mountain tribesmen. American Marine engines are getting installed in South Viet Nam's first fleet of seagoing combat junks designed for patrols and corsair attacks against Communist coastal and river boats.

Construction of installations, quarters and offices for Americans assigned to South Viet Nam continues to mount. The U.S. Air Force, for example, is building a tremendous communications on a bare hilltop here. South Vietnamese contractors are expanding facilities for American advisers quartered in former Emperor Bao Dai's huge old hunting lodge at Banmethuot Banmethuot.

As the numbers of Americans have increased, they have brought more equipment, trappings, bureaucracy and red tape with them.

THUS THE NUMBER of U.S. Air Force transports, Army liaison planes and even occasional U.S. Navy cargo aircraft landing at South Vietnamese command posts and airfields is increasing daily, disgorging everything from rations to tape recorders to propellers to generals, colonels and visitors.

As American headquarters staffs have increased — "we do not outnumber the men in the field," headquarters spokesmen insist — so have the bureaucracy and red tape so traditional with the U.S. Army.

An American major on field duty with a South Vietnamese unit in the Mekong Delta complained bitterly recently he had to furnish so many reports to his headquarters superiors he hardly had time to sleep at night.

Some observers wonder uneasily if the American advisers' suggestions to, and influence with, the South Vietnamese Army may not convert it gradually into a kind of pale carbon copy of a large conventional U.S. Army — certainly not the type of military organization best suited and adapted to guerrilla war being fought here.

Public Confidence

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Most Persons Don't Know Risk of New Drugs

Periodically in American history there has been a national furor over a poisoned food or a harmful drug. The end result of the agitation is usually beneficial.

The public demand for closer supervision or investigation is heeded. The current controversy comes at a time when drugs in other countries as well as our own have achieved a remarkable acceptance. People have had an almost unbounded confidence in the drugs offered them. But now there is a danger the reaction may go the other way and confidence in drugs as such may diminish.

Hence in what the government does now it is essential to protect the public. But it is important also to continue drug research that can reduce human suffering and increase the span of life.

The average person knows very little about the risks involved in drugs that haven't been widely tested. It is doubtful if the mind of the prospective user turns very much to the risks involved. The tendency is to believe in the doctor who prescribes it or the pharmacist who recommends it.

U.S. Food and Drug Administration was established as the result of a law passed June 30 1906 during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. It was created largely because of the widespread controversy developed at the time by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley who assailed the distribution of adulterated foods and drugs.

A law also was passed on the same day requiring inspection of meat - packing establishments, some of which had been accused of maintaining unsanitary facilities.

MUCH PROGRESS has been made in this field during the last 56 years. But again and again it has been brought to the attention of the public that regulation is inadequate or that inspection is not as effective as it should be.

U.S. Food and Drug Administration is part of the Department of Health Education and Welfare. New regulations on drugs have just been drafted for study by the medical profession, the drug industry, scientific societies and other interested groups. The regulations will go into effect with such changes or improvements as may result from the comments of those making the study during the next 60 days.

Broadly speaking, the basic principles are related to full disclosure of what a drug contains and a requirement for thorough investigation of the effects noted in the testing process.

Doctors as a rule do not tell their patients to take drugs that are risky. Where there is a risk, it is outlined and the patient may use his discretion whether or not to participate in a test.

What is very important to police is the nature and scope of the investigations made when drugs are being tested. How competent are the so-called "experts" who do the testing? Are the drugs tried out under proper limitations and with comprehensive records kept about the "side effects"? These are the objectives of the new regulations, though it may be said the purposes have been the same in the past.

THE CHANGE today is in the degree of intensity in policing the experimental process itself. Sometimes, manufacturers or over-zealous distributors of drugs are unwilling to wait for a thorough check. Sometimes incompetent persons will make the tests. Sometimes there is inefficiency in collecting or in studying the data.

Disclosure of the contents of a drug is not adequate in itself, because most people are unfamiliar with technical terms. It is the doctor or the pharmacist who needs to be advised of the results of tests and whether any danger signs have been noted.

Drugs tested with good results on animals may be injurious when used by human beings. Also, drugs intended for use in treating certain ailments may prove harmful among patients who have ailments of another kind at the same time.

Testing is a long and laborious process. Impatience sets in when the public hears of a "miracle" cure for some disease and the remedy is for one reason or another withheld. Not many years ago the criticism heard was that doctors hesitated too long to prescribe remedies even when the drugs noted in the headlines were said to be achieving good results.

Th problem, therefore, is not going to be solved entirely by any new set of regulations. Many of the dangers will be eliminated by requirements of full disclosure. But the chances of error will be diminished only if the whole investigating process is better handled and more safeguards are introduced against premature distribution of drugs that may have damaging effects.

But it would be tragic if the public furor about the unfortunate results in the last few months in the use of thalidomide causes people to lose confidence in all manner of drugs. Salk vaccine, for example, has accomplished wonders in cutting down the toll of polio, but it went through a long period of experimentation before it was released and finally given the approval of the medical profession.

Many other advances have been made, especially in the use of penicillin and various antibiotics. But, again, not everybody can take them. There seems to be no rule of thumb about drugs. Yet they have prolonged human life and have reduced physical suffering.

So long as tests are properly conducted, public confidence in new drugs will be maintained.

Japan's Neurotic

By JACK RUSSELL

TOKYO — Americans are more neurotic than Japanese and are likely to remain that way.

This is the opinion of Japanese psychiatrist Dr. Akira Omi, executive secretary of the Health Administration Study Council, in Tokyo.

Dr. Omi disclosed that in studies among Tokyo office and factory workers, he found that one per cent suffered from neurosis, one half of one per cent needed psychiatric treatment and 4 per cent of the urban population can be "assumed to have neurotic tendencies."

However, he said that statistics available here from America showed that 5 per cent of all Americans were neurotic, 2 per cent required psychiatric care and 20 per cent of the entire population had neurotic tendencies.

DR. OMI, who believes that neurosis is on the increase in Japan, said the cause was increasing "urbanization, industrialization and modernization."

He pointed to the Tokyo skyline: an ugly, conglomeration of tightly packed buildings with streets choked by noisy traffic in which 10 million people now live. The Japanese doctor said the Japanese find this environment new and are "untrained" to cope with conflicts in this new way of life.

He said the definition of neurosis was the same everywhere: that it occurred when an individual's anxieties reached the point where his daily adjustment to life was disturbed.

Dr. Omi said that the problem of man against machine was a new and heavy burden. He said a Japanese still using the ancient abacus for mathematical calculations is liable to feel "isolated and alone" in an office with computers and adding machines.

WHEN ASKED why the Japanese rate of neurosis was lower than in the U.S., he said, "We are behind industrially compared to the United States."

Despite Japan's gigantic strides in industrial growth, Dr. Omi doubted if the Japanese would ever become as neurotic as Americans reportedly are.

Emphasizing the significance of infancy and childhood in emotional development, Dr. Omi said, "The upbringing of children is entirely different in the two nations."

"In Japan," the mother keeps her baby with her almost continuously by even strapping him to her back when she goes about the house or outside," he said. "When the Japanese baby is hungry, he is fed and the mother does not follow the American practice of nursing on schedule."

"Thus, the Japanese baby is not frustrated."

When asked if he were concerned that the United States — the power of the free world — had such a reportedly high rate of neurosis, Dr. Omi said, "I certainly don't believe America's leaders are neurotic."

Advisory Committee Named For Kent Center

An advisory committee to promote and perpetuate the proposed Kent State University Extension Center in Salem has been formed and will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the student lounge at the Senior High School building, Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith announced today.

The committee is made up of interested citizens, many of them representing service clubs, from throughout the area. Thus far, 18 men and women have accepted invitations from Supt. Smith to serve on the committee. They are:

George Baillie of the Rotary Club, Lee Bowman and Karl Stoudt of the United School District, Mrs. Frances Brennan and Dr. Paul Conrad of Leetonia, Mrs. L. A. Way and Mrs. Russell Barber of Columbiana, Mrs. G. E. Farrington of the League of Women Voters, Richard Capel of the Kiwanis Club, George Wyr of the Salem Jaycees.

Alfred Fitch representing the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Raymond H. Weaver and Paul Young of Lisbon, Milton E. Steiner and William Readshaw of the Manufacturers Association, Glenn Turner of Beloit and Harris O. Stanley of Damascus from the West Branch School District and Carl Juergens of 420 N. Broadway.

Besides promoting the extension center here, the committee will be asked to help raise approximately $2,000 for library materials. The superintendent said he is hopeful that the committee eventually will be able to set up some type of scholarships in area communities.

Await Registrations

Kent State officials say the Extension Center will be established here provided a sufficient number of persons sign up for courses. Initially, the Salem Center will offer a two-year college program centered in general studies. Basic courses in English, history, physical science, mathematics, art, business education, a foreign language and speech will be included in the 1962 Fall Quarter of studies, as demand indicates.

A majority of the courses will apply to a baccalaureate degree in the colleges of Arts and Sciences. Business Administration, Education, and Fine and Professional Arts of Kent State University. Courses in other fields will be included in the program in September if sufficient interest is demonstrated.

There is no required registration load. A student may register for one or more courses as he prefers, dependent upon conditions of work and other factors applicable to his situation.

It is possible for evening students to complete two full years of college work in two years by attending four evenings per week, as well as summer terms.

Advanced registration will be held Tuesday, Aug. 28, and Thursday, Aug. 30, at the Senior High School building from 1 to 8 p.m. Counseling service will be available prior to registration both days.

Final registration is set for Monday, Sept. 10, with classes to begin Sept. 19.

Rogers

Attorney Donald Elliott of Rogers and Floyd Lower and Dwight Beede of Lisbon attended a meeting of the Department of Natural Resources at Columbus Thursday pertaining to the County Park and the State Beaver Creek Park.

Elliott is chairman of the Columbiana County Park and Forestry Committee. Lower is secretary and Beede is a member.

The men and ladies auxiliaries of the Rogers Volunteer Fire Department will hold their monthly meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Community Hall. Dale Williams and Mrs. Veda Cope will preside.

Beaver Local Booster Club will have Beaver Local High School with president Steve Barborak presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sturgeon of Elkton are in charge of refreshments.

Some religious ceremonies among the Australian aborigines are so sacred that people are not allowed even to whisper while they are going on. Participants communicate in sign language.

Lisbon Social

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

Daughters of America were honored at their meeting Thursday evening to have the 6th district deputy, Mrs. Olive White, and the orphans chairman, Mrs. Eva Adams of East Liverpool present.

Twenty-four members attended, with the councilor, Mrs. Kathy Bush, conducting the meeting.

The social committee for the evening was Mrs. Kathy Bush, Mrs. Mildred Hiscox, Mrs. Lydia Bennett and Mrs. Elsie Pete. Prizes were awarded to Miss Laura McKee and Mrs. Olive Ogle, Mrs. Gertrude McCord and Mrs. Eva Adams.

Mrs. Arthur Brown, Sr., of Canton Rd. entertained a group of friends Thursday evening at her home in honor of Miss Bonnie Huff who received gifts at the miscellaneous shower given her.

Miss Huff and Arthur Brown Jr. will be united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 25, at Trinity Friends Church, west of Lisbon. Open church will be observed and a reception will follow at the Lisbon Grange hall.

THE FRIENDSHIP CLUB held a picnic dinner at noon Thursday at Willow Grove Park. There were 34 present, including children and grandchildren of the members.

Mrs. Bertha Lodge of Lisbon and Mrs. Anita Webster of Leetonia were the hostesses for the day.

This club has met for about 40 years and its members are a group of neighbors and former neighbors who get together once a month, sometimes to sew, make rugs, exchange recipes and visit.

Among the guests Thursday was Mrs. Mable McTigue, Mrs. Peggy Halverstadt, Mrs. Lula Barnes of Leetonia and Mrs. Della Miller of Lisbon.

Next month's meeting will be Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Baker, Lower Elkton Rd., assisted by Mrs. Mary Carnes of same address, and Mrs. May Carnes of Salem.

Eight Pals Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Paul Davner, Old Route 30 Rd.

Prizes at 500 were awarded to Mrs. George Ramsey, Mrs. Dean Nicholson and Mrs. John Popa. Mrs. Pete Cope was a guest.

Mrs. David Drakulich of Salem will entertain the club Sept. 13. Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Sherman St. entertained members of the Thursday Night Club last evening at her home. Prizes at games were awarded to Mr. Robert Taffini and Mrs. Eugene McLoughlin.

The club will meet Thursday, Aug. 23, at the home of Mrs. Rennis Perkins, W. Maple St.

Mrs. Eddie James, E. Chestnut St., entertained members of the 20th Century Club Thursday at the summer home of Mrs. Robert Leggett at Guilford Lake. Prizes at bridge were given to Mrs. Edwin Bucher and Mrs. Gerald Weinstock.

Mrs. Lester Robinson, W. Lincoln Way, will entertain the club Thursday, Aug. 23.

REGULAR MEETING of the V.F.W. Auxiliary was held Tuesday at the post home with 14 members present. President Mildred Ieropoli was in charge.

Plans were made for the V.F.W. family picnic to be held Sunday, Aug. 12, at Copeland Lake near Columbiana.

Plans were made to complete the "Ronald Dively fund". He will soon be ready for braces and the Auxiliary is still short of its goal to help meet the expenses.

A covered dinner was planned for Tuesday, Aug. 21, for the next meeting of the VFW Auxiliary to honor members who have birthdays in July and August.

U.S. Is Ready To OK Peru's Military Junta

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is ready to give its diplomatic stamp of approval to the military junta now ruling Peru, informed sources said today.

American recognition will be forthcoming soon, probably next week, they said.

After the group of Peruvian officers overthrew the elected government July 18, the United States swiftly suspended diplomatic relations and cut off economic and military aid.

The decision to recognize the junta as the government of Peru apparently was based on the junta's promises to return to democratic processes as soon as possible and to maintain civil liberties and a pro-democratic, anti-Communist government.

The United States is expected to act after more of the key Latin American nations have extended recognition. This follows tradition, Haiti, Argentina and Mexico were the first to recognize the junta.

Peru's pledges to the Organization of American States (OAS) last Wednesday strengthened the new government's position among hemispheric nations and was a big factor in the U.S. decision, sources said.

The Peruvian regime promised fair elections, clean government, respect for international agreements and opposition to communism and the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba.

Word has been received that Pfc. E-2 Thomas Corso, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Corso of 1280 N. Lincoln, completed a course of 14 weeks in automatic repair and received his diploma on Aug. 3 at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. His new address is 557th Ord. Co., Dir. Spt., APO 162, N.Y., N.Y.

Herbert Hoover Jr. ribbed his famous father, former President Herber Hoover—about a remark he said might have been inflationary.

The former president told an audience in his home town that he used to pick potato bugs as a boy in West Branch, Iowa, and sell them for 10 cents a hundred. "I'm sure it was only a penny," Herbert Jr. said.

The marriage of the professional dance team of Yolanda and Veloz has ended. She obtained a divorce in Los Angeles, saying "He just has left the home and has refused to come back. We argued quite a bit. It was very difficult to live together. We just didn't get along."

As youngsters, Yolanda Casazza, now 50, and Frank N. Veloz, now 60, entered a dance contest and lost in the first round. But they began a serious study of dancing and became a professional stage and nightclub team grossing $25,000 a week.

Veloz told newsmen that they remain good friends. They have four children.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan rounded out a trio of distinguished visitors visiting Sir Winston Churchill and reported he found the veteran statesman "in very good form."

"He was much better than when I last saw him," Macmillan told newsmen after a 35-minute visit Friday night.

Ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Lewis Douglas, former U.S. ambassador in Britain, visited Churchill earlier at Middlesex Hospital, where he is recovering from a broken thigh. All said they found him looking very well.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. G. C. Greenisen

Mrs. Celia Greenisen, 79, of 630 E. Third St., died of complications at 2:30 a.m. today at her home following a long illness.

A daughter of Henry and Sarah Burger Halverstadt, she was born in Salem Township Dec. 13, 1882. She married Garrie C. Greenisen Feb. 18, 1904. He preceded her in death.

A member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, where she served as organist for many years, she also belonged to the Friendship Circle. She joined Mt. Nebo Grange in 1900 and transferred to Salem Grange in 1913.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Ivan McComb of Alliance; two sons, Galen H., of Salem, a county commissioner, and Donald R. of San Antonio, Texas; a sister, Mrs. George Robbins of Youngstown; a brother, Carl O. Halv-rstadt of Los Angeles, Calif.; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A son, Clifford, died in 1957 and two brothers and a sister also preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church Monday at 2 p.m., with Rev. George Keister in charge. Burial will take place in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Arbough-Pearce Funeral Home.

Millard F. Stith

MINERVA — Millard F. Stith, 70, of RD 1, Minerva, died of a heart seizure Friday at 12:45 p.m. while mowing his lawn.

He was born in Wayne County, W. Va., the son of Millard and Mary Bellomy Stith. He moved to Minerva from Wayne County in 1950.

A retired mason helper with the Norfolk and Western Railroad in West Virginia, he was also a former employee of the Robertsville Brick Co. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Besides his wife, Nancy Ellen Ellis Stith, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. David Starkey of Minerva and Mrs. Billy Mings of Massillon; four sons, Elbert of East Canton and Haskell, Lester and Denver of the home; and a sister, Miss Lottie Smith of Huntington, W. Va.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Gotschall-Hutchinson Funeral Home, with Rev. Harry Strait officiating. Burial will be in Robertsville Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton

EAST PALESTINE—Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton, 50, died Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Betty Jane Nursing Home in Wellsville where she had been a patient four years.

A former East Palestine resident, she was born in Petersburg Jan. 15, 1912, the daughter of the late Rev. William H. and Alice Anthony Oelschlaeger. Rev. Oelschlaeger was a former pastor of Grace Lutheran Church.

She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church in Petersburg, American Legion Auxiliary in East Palestine, of which she was a past president, and the Women's Relief Corps.

She leaves a son, William H. of North Brook, Ill.; two brothers, David E. of Coraopolis, Pa., and L.T. of North Brook, Ill.

Rev. Donald R. Rice will conduct funeral services at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the VanDyke Funeral Home here. Cremation services are planned.

Calling hours are 7 to 9 tonight.

MOTHER SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Eva Klepper, 81, mother of Virgil Klepper of N. Madison Ave., died suddenly Friday afternoon at her home in Creston, O. She visited here frequently. The funeral service will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Murray Funeral Home in Creston. Calling hours are Sunday. Two other brothers are among the survivors.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

LISBON — David B. Eason, 50, of Alliance, was bound over to grand jury Friday under $500 bond by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of forgery. He pleaded "not guilty."

Eason was bound over after a preliminary hearing on an affidavit filed by his wife, Marie, after he allegedly forged a truck title. Eason made bond and was released after the hearing.

George W. Bunn

Rites On Monday For George W. Bunn

Memorial services for George William Bunn, 58, Salem merchant who died suddenly at his home at 1558 Cleveland St. at 11 a.m. Friday, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the First United Presbyterian Church with Rev. Bruce Milligan officiating.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery. Friends are asked to contribute to the Presbyterian Memorial Fund in place of flowers.

Born in Salineville on June 30, 1904, he was the son of George J. and Ella Yost Bunn.

He married Louise Craft in Brownsville, Pa., on June 14, 1929. He was the president of Bunn Good Shoes, Inc. and had been associated with the Franklin Furniture Co. in Columbiana from 1926 to 1959. He was a member of the Ohio and National Retailers Associations.

A member of the First United Presbyterian Church, he belonged to Church Session and had served on all of the boards of the church.

A graduate of Salem High School and the College of Wooster, he attained the rank of Air Force captain during World War II.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth E. McCullough of Cleveland and Mrs. Mary B. Bowman of Sonoma, Calif.

largest corporations in the volunteer program. These firms employ about 4.5 million people.

The source said that while Troutman had shown the white-Negro employment records of 52 of the firms to Feild's staff, he had yet to make reports on the other 33.

The Kheel report, the source added, suggests more reliance on Troutman's plan for voluntary achievement of improved equal rights employment practices than on compulsory compliance.

He added that the proposal has the support of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the committee.

The report by Kheel, former president of the National Urban League and now president of the newly founded Gandhi Society for Human Rights, also recommends that the job of executive vice chairman be made into a paid position. This would downgrade Feild.

The executive vice chairman's job is now held on an acting basis by a Goldberg assistant, Stephen Shulman.

In the aftermath of the Kheel report, two men are reported under consideration to fill the executive vice chairmanship on a permanent basis.

They were identified by the source as Hobart Taylor Jr., and Benjamin Mays, both Negroes.

Taylor, a wealthy Detroit lawyer, is a special assistant to Johnson and also a special counsel for the employment committee.

Mays is president of Morehouse College, a part of Atlanta University in Atlanta, Ga.

80-Year-Old Home Inmate Is Found

John (Mitty) Clunk, 80, a resident of the Columbiana County Home, was found at 8:30 a.m. today by Linda Jackson, 14, and Dan Baker, 16, who were on horseback helping Guilford and Lisbon Volunteer Firemen search for Clunk who had wandered away from the home last night. He has been living at the home since 1959.

Russell Phillips, supt. of the home, said Clunk was perfectly well. It is not known where he stayed or slept last night.

Move Made To Put End To Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders filed a debate-limitation petition today in a move to break a filibuster against the administration's communications satellite bill.

The petition, which must get approval of a two-thirds majority of senators voting, will automatically come to a vote under the Senate's rules one hour after he Senae meets on Tuesday.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana sent the petition to the desk after declaring that opponents of the bill have given no indication that they are prepared to permit debate to come to a close.

Before killing the petition, Mansfield tried and failed to get unanimous consent to limit debate. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., one of the small group of Democrats fighting the House-passed bill, objected.

The Senate's debate-limitation rule has not been successfully invoked since 1927 despite numerous attempts during filibusters against civil rights measures.

Earlier this session, two votes were taken on petitions to shut off debate against the administration's voter literacy test bill and failed to muster even a majority. The measure then was put aside.

Long said he had an eight-hour speech ready for today's session. He had spoken Friday as opponents of the measure resumed a filibuster interrupted by 10 days of committee hearings, and called the bill as "crooked as a barrel of worms."

Mansfield said he was submitting the debate-limitation petition on the communications satellite bill on behalf of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as well as himself. Under the rules, it had to have the signatures of 16 senators.

Double funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Stark Memorial, with the Rev. Ray Patterson, pastor of Phillips Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Other Area Accidents

In three other mishaps that occurred on area highways Friday, one person was injured.

Alten Messenger, 46, of RD 1, Lisbon, received abrasions of the left knee when he failed to negotiate a curve on Twp. Rd. 756.

He added that the proposal has the support of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the committee.

The report by Kheel, former president of the National Urban League and now president of the newly founded Gandhi Society for Human Rights, also recommends that the job of executive vice chairman be made into a paid position. This would downgrade Feild.

He has been living at the home since 1959.

Russell Phillips, supt. of the home, said Clunk was perfectly well. It is not known where he stayed or slept last night.

Another factor the President has to take into consideration is some formidable congressional opposition to a tax cut. A group of AFL-CIO labor union leaders who had lunch with Kennedy Wednesday came away saying he was doubtful Congress would be willing to approve a reduction this year.

Legion of County Has Meeting At Hanover Post

Columbiana County Council of the American Legion met Friday evening for their monthly meeting at Lepine-Rush Post 684 Home in Hanover. Commander Albert Hayes of Columbiana presided.

The American Legion essay contest subject for this year will be "How I Can Help Preserve the American Democracy." It was announced. The contest is again open to all high school students in the county. The contest will close Jan. 7, 1963.

The Legion membership campaign is now underway for 1963 and the county quota is 2,706.

Comdr. Hayes announced that the Legionnaires would visit the Massillon State Hospital Oct. 10 to furnish lunch, candy and cigarettes for about 90 patients and will hold a bingo party for the group and will give prizes to the winners.

County Legion Civil Defense Chairman Harmon Zepernick of Post 56 in Salem will attend the civil defense school at Battle Creek, Mich., in September.

John Herman of Salem, co-chairman of junior baseball, urged all county post to sponsor Legion baseball teams next year. He reported that there should be at least six teams in the county next year.

District Second Vice-Commander Jerry Knight of Massillon reported that 117 participated in the 10th District golf tournament at Riceland recently.

One hundred and seventy persons attended the Legion County Council picnic last Sunday at Copeland lake.

Next Council meeting will be held at Post 4 in East Liverpool Sept. 14 and Probate Judge Louis Tobin will speak.

The orbit at its highest point took the spacecraft 150 miles above the earth, at its lowest point 109 miles. Tass said the orbit is inclined 65 degrees to the plane of the equator.

The launching came one year and five days after Soviet cosmonaut Maj. Gherman Titov successfully began 17 orbits of the earth. The first Soviet spaceman, Maj. Yuri Gagarin, made one trip around the world on April 12, 1961.

Two U.S. astronauts have made orbital flights. John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter each successfully orbited the earth three times this year. Glenn's flight was Feb. 20, Carpenter's May 24. Two earlier sub-orbital space flights were made by American astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

Moscow radio repeatedly read news of the latest Soviet space flight in the same triumphant tones it used to announce the flights of Titov and Gagarin in Vostoks I and II. The word "Vostok" in Russian means "East."

Titov hailed Nikolayev as "The embodiment of composure, which is necessary for the commander of a space ship."

"My friend is a man of iron endurance and courageous determination. There is no doubt that during his flight he will augment much to what Yuri Gagarin and I have done," Titov said.

Tass said Nikolayev was born in 1929 in the village of Shorshaly, Chuvash Autonomous Republic, one of six children born to a collective farm couple.

Young Driver Cited After Fair Ave. Mishap

Mary P. Durand, 17, of 860 Homewood Ave. was cited into juvenile court on a charge of reckless driving, filed by police, after her automobile struck a parked car on Fair Ave., just south of E. State St., at 12:31 a.m. today.

Police said the girl lost control of the car after hitting the parked vehicle owned by Lloyd Loop of 1544 E. Third St. and then veering into the yard of J. H. Daniels, 165 S. Madison, demolishing a child's bicycle and tearing out 12 feet of hedge.

Plan Hearing For Shopping Center

The Perry Township Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing Monday, Aug. 27, on a proposal to change the zoning of the Ray Winegart farm on Rt. 62, just north of Salem, from agricultural to business for a proposed shopping center and bowling alley.

The hearing will take place at 8 p.m. that day at the Perry Township Hall on the Depot Road, the zoning board said.

senting 210,000 trainmen affected by the railroad proposals, for a permanent injunction barring the work rules revision.

U.S. District Court Judge Joseph Sam Perry refused the injunction but granted a temporary restraining order Friday against the revision until the unions could appeal his decision.

It is this restraining order that the railroads will seek to have vacated Monday.

No one involved in the complicated negotiations expects the railroads to be able to proceed with their cutbacks even if the appeals court vacates the restraining order.

The five unions have served notice that they will strike first, a possibility that union and management leaders fully expect to result in White House action.

Soblen

Al flight to New York is due to leave London at 2:45 p.m. Sunday (9:45 a.m. EST).

El Al, which is acting under Israeli government orders, repeatedly has said it would not fly Soblen, who is now in London's Brixton Prison, to New York.

The British government could take steps against the airline's landing rights in Britain for its failure to meet previous deadlines.

The international wrangle over Soblen began June 26 when he jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel on his dead brother's passport. Israel refused Soblen's plea for admission as an immigrant and expelled him on a New York-bound El Al airliner in the company of James P. McShane, chief of U.S. marshals.

3 Days of Prayer At St. Paul's Planned

A triduum of devotions in honor of Our Blessed Lady will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. at St. Paul's Catholic church.

Rev. Father Bonaventure, O.F.M., from St. Mary Friary at Columbiana will conduct the devotions and preach each evening. Wednesday is the feast of the Assumption of Our Blessed Lady of obligation.

Masses on Wednesday will be at 5:30, 7:00, 8 and 9:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.; confessions will be heard Tuesday afternoon, 4:00 to 5:30, and after devotions in the evening until 9.

In the Service

William J. Yovanovic, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Yovanovic of Red Maple Landing, RD 4, Lisbon, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Robert K. Huntington which has departed with Destroyer Squadron 14 to join the U. S. Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean.

Change In River-lake Road To Be Aired At Columbiana

A new location for 13.3 miles of the proposed Lake Erie to Ohio River Freeway in Columbiana and Mahoning Counties which would provide a connecting link between Ohio River at East Liverpool and Lake Erie Port facilities at Ashtabula, will be discussed at a public hearing on Tuesday in Columbiana.

Deputy Director William P. McKenna of Division 11 of the Ohio Department of Highways will conduct the hearing at the Dixon Elementary School at 2 p.m. Other Highway officials and consulting engineers will be present to answer questions after the formal meeting.

The location of the proposed limited access route, which has been designated by the Highway Department as State Route 11, will be changed to run generally east of the location previously established at a hearing in 1959. (Note accompanying map)

The project, which would cost an estimated $12,000,000, including right of way and engineering, would begin at State Route 558 in Columbiana and run north ending at US Route 224 in Mahoning County. Proposed interchanges on the four-lane, 84 foot wide median divider highway, would be at State Route 331, State Route 14, State Route 46, and US Route 224.

Proposals for relocation of 0.4 mile of State Route 344 where the proposed Freeway crosses Route 344 between Leetonia and Columbiana, will also be discussed at the Tuesday hearing.

Heloise

Hints From

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: For people who go on lots of picnics: I have found that I can take my plastic soap containers, cut them off and they make wonderful drinking glasses. And they don't have to be brought home or even worried about? No danger of breakage either.

I add syrup with peanut butter and find the peanut butter does not "stick" in my mouth. MRS. TED BARNETT

DEAR HELOISE: I have told many of my friends about this idea and they like it: I mark the newspaper articles that I want to cut out later by taking a pencil and writing the number of the page at the top of the front page. I then circle the article.

When everyone has finished with the paper I just look at the numbers on the front page and turn to the particular article. It's much easier than hunting through all the sections until you come to a page with the corner torn off! MRS. WILLIAM HEIDER SR.

With the Students

Kurt Ludwig, son of Beman Ludwig of 744 E. 4th St., is employed for the summer by the Bureau of European Affairs of the Department of State in Washington.

As a part of his training, he is attending briefings given by such senior officials as Dean Rusk, Secretary of State and George McGhee, Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs. He also attends biweekly conferences at which principal officers of other departments speak. His job entails taking part in the regular work of the Department which includes the promotion of U.S. foreign trade, protection of U.S. citizens and property abroad.

Miss Rosemarie Sulea of 555 W. 8th St., who will receive her master of arts graduate degree from Kent State University Aug. 25, will be among three candidates who will have their art work on display at the KSU art gallery until Wednesday.

Civil Air Patrol Unit To Attend Camp

Thirteen cadets of the local Civil Air Patrol Squadron will attend the summer encampment at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton for nine days beginning Aug. 18.

Those attending are: Larry Cope, John Dickson, Patricia Duriga, Edwin Kaminsky, Erma Kaminsky, Penny Manning, Nancy McCrea, Norman Spiker, Carl Taylor, Stanley Vail, Julia nSunderman, Gene Bertolette and Rus-Cope, senior members, will accompany them.

The cadets, all between the ages of 14 and 17, will learn and practice such things as military customs and courtesies, discipline, drill and safety. The camp gives them a chance to practice what they have studied the past year.

Retail Sales Up Slightly In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail sales increased by two per cent in July—a significant advance—following a two-month decline, the Commerce Department reported today.

Preliminary figures placed July sales at $19,451,000,000—up from the June total of $19,096,000,000. The July level was $19 million higher than the figure for May but fell short of the April peak of $19.6 billion.

The advance report on retail sales was one of the economic indicators awaited by President Kennedy as he moved toward a decision on whether to ask Congress for a 1962 tax cut. Many economists also had been anticipating the July report as a measure of consumer confidence.

The figures announced today were adjusted to take account of normal seasonal swings and differences in trading days. The report was based on a survey of 2,000 firms operating 39,000 stores.

July sales of durable goods were up about five per cent from $6 billion to $6.3 billion. The key to this advance was brisk sales of new autos.

Deliveries by stores specializing in soft goods increased by $69 million to more than $13.1 billion.

Wynn Beats A's For 298th Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland pitcher Pedro Ramos knows how the Washington Senators feel about losing seven straight games. But he had no intention of letting them break their streak by prolonging his own.

Ramos shut out the Nats 3-0 Friday night on six hits. It was his first victory after six straight losses, and he outdueled Washington's best, Dave Stenhouse, who held the Indians scoreless for five innings. That stretched Cleveland's string of scoreless innings to 24.

Major League Stars

By The Associated Press
PITCHING—Dean Chance, Angels, went all the way in 1-0, 11-inning victory over Minnesota, hitting Twins to five hits for first major league shutout and gave Los Angeles undisputed possession of second place in the American League.

BATTING—Willie Mays, Giants, hit 35th homer for first San Francisco run, then doubled to start six-run sixth that wrapped up a victory over National League leading Los Angeles.

Special Meeting Set By United Boosters

A special meeting will be held by the United Local Boosters Club Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the high school, President Ken Wick-ersham announced today.

The session will be open to all interested persons wishing to discuss the lighting of the football field. Also the football program will be discussed.

Fight Results

EUGENE, Ore. — Florentino Fernandez, 160, Miami Beach, Fla., stopped Phil Moyer, 160, Eugene, Ore., 7.

run of the season.

Stenhouse struck out nine before being knocked out of the box in the Indians' two-run seventh. Ty Cline started the rally with a single and Al Luplow followed suit. Francona then doubled home Cline, and Stenhouse took a shower. Gene Green hit a 400-foot fly to center off reliever Pete Burnside to bring in the other run.

The worst of three jams Ramos got in came in the sixth, with the Indians leading 1-0. Men were on second and third with one out, but Ramos got Don Lock to pop out and fanned Bob Johnson.

From that point, Ramos retired the last 11 batters.

Sam McDowell (2-4) pitches for the Tribe tonight against Washington's Claude Osteen (5-9).

Old Early Wynn made his major league debut when hamburgers were a nickle someone named Mysterious Al Hostak was the middleweight champion and "Gone With the Wind" was winning Academy Awards.

The five-cent hamburger is, of course, a thing of the past. Mysterious Al is long since retired.

But Rhet Butler, 42, Scarlett O'Hara and tough old Early still are kicking around.

The Chicago White Sox right-hander, who first appeared in the majors in 1939, moved to within two giant steps of the principal milestone of his major-league career Friday night, beating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1.

Third Try For "Big" Win

The victory was his 298th, placing him within two of the charmed 300 circle, which has been reached only 13 times. It gave Wynn, sometimes called Old Gus, a 6-8 record for the year and represented his third try at gaining No. 298.

The New York Yankees bombed him in one outing, and he was the victim of a 1-0 no-hit performance by Boston's Bill Monbouquette in the other. This one didn't come easy, either. Baseball's senior performer had to have help from Dean Stone in the eighth when he apparently tired.

In the other American League games, the leading Yankees bombed Detroit 8-0, the Los Angeles Angels remained five games back on the strength of Dean Chance's five-hit pitching and Leon Wagner's 11th inning single which edged Minnesota 1-0. Baltimore at Boston was postponed by rain.

Chance Fans Seven

Chance (10-6) a rookie right-hander for the Angels, struck out seven, walked only three and let Minnesota get only one man past second as the Angels took sole possession of second. Twin lefty Jim Kaat (12-10), who shut out Los Angeles twice this season, had a three-hit shutout going into the 11th when Steven Bilko got an infield hit with one out. Jim Fregosi went in to run for him and took third on a single by Bob Rodgers. Wagner's single broke it up.

Reds Trips Mets On Robinson's Homers; Spahn Gets 321th win

Dodger Coach Leo Durocher hustled out to calm the Dodger left-hander and wound up in an argument with Sudol.

The result: Durocher was ejected. Podres was bombed. The Giants poured in six runs and went on to the easy triumph behind the five-hit pitching of Billy O'Dell.

Elsewhere in the NL, third-place Cincinnati used Frank Robinson's two homers for an 8-4 triumph over the New York Mets. Warren Spahn got victory No. 321 as Milwaukee edged Houston 7-6. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 7-4 and the Chicago Cubs topped Pittsburgh 7-6.

Robinson triggered the Reds' victory over the Mets, hitting homers in the first and fourth while starting a four-run third inning uprising with a double.

Frank Thomas and Marv Throneberry accounted for the New York runs with homers off Jim Maloney (6-4), who hurled a six-hitter. Al Jackson (6-14) lost it.

Bloomington, Al's IGA Eliminated

Smithfield Victor 2-1 On No-Hitter

Top-seeded Smithfield Falcon A. C. squeezed past Steubenville Mac's Snacks 2-1 Friday on Don Poole's no-hitter in one of three District 14 Fastpitch Softball Tournament battles.

In the other tourney tilts Al's IGA of Carrollton and Bloomington-Wintersville became the first aggregations to be eliminated from the double elimination tournament that had 10 squads starting out.

AL'S IGA WAS blanked 4-0 by Minerva Gottschall - Hutchinson and Bloomington was held scoreless as Unionport chalked up a 7-0 victory.

Only Old Dutch, Lincoln Machine and Smithfield remain undefeated in the tourney. Old Dutch and Lincoln clash this afternoon at 5 p.m. with the winner taking on Smithfield Sunday at 1 p.m., for the right to enter the championship tilt.

The victor in the winners' bracket will meet the winner of the losers' bracket on Sunday at 7 p.m. for the tournament crown with a berth in the state tourney at Ashland also at stake.

Steubenville moved to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on three walks, a sacrifice and a hit batter. For the remainder of the game Poole held the losers in check as he fanned 13 of the next 19 batters to face him, including nine in a row.

Smithfield tallied both of its runs in the sixth canto as Steubenville pitcher Tom Dunn kept the Falcon bats hitless for the first five frames.

FRANKLIN TYLER LED the can't off by getting on base via an interference call; Ed West reacted base on two errors and Denny Johnson and Poole rapped consecutive singles to give Smithfield the victory. Dunn hurled a good game as he allowed the winners only two hits, but five Steubenville miscues proved to be the losers' downfall.

Gottschall tallied four runs in the fourth inning on two singles and a triple to upend Carrollton. Unionport chalked up runs in the first, second, third and sixth innings on 11 hits to roll past Bloomington. Two triples sparked the Unionport attack. Bloomington batters also collected two triples.

TODAY'S GAMES

5, Lincoln Machine vs Old Dutch
6, Minerva Gottschall vs Minerva Mallernee

7, Salem Democrats vs Unionport
8, Winner of Gottschall-Mallernee game vs loser of Old Dutch - Lincoln game

9, Steubenville vs winner of Democrats-Unionport game

SUNDAY'S GAMES

1, Smithfield vs winner of Old Dutch-Lincoln game

Other games are scheduled for 2:30, and 4 p.m. with the championship game, pitting the victor of the Smithfield-Old Dutch-Lincoln game against the losers' bracket winner, at 7 p.m.

Shows Youngsters How To Do It

Murray Rose Cops Opening Day Win In AAU Swim Meet

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) —Murray Rose, a self-styled "old man" of the swimming world, continues his personal vendetta against the youngsters today after a sparkling opening day victory in the AAU national men's outdoor swimming championships.

"We showed them the old times can do it sometimes—with a little bit of luck," said the 23-year-old Australian, climbing out of the pool after whipping 17-year-old Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., in the 400-meter freestyle Friday.

Rose lost to Saari in three events at the National Indoor meet at Bartlesville, Okla. last spring.

Rose said he had been working hard since finishing work at the University of Southern California and is down near the 174-pound weight at which he swam in the Olympics at Melbourne in 1956. He carried off three gold medals that year. He was in top form Friday as he was clocked in 4:17.2, and finished five meters ahead of 16-year-old Don Schollander of the Santa Clara (Calif.) Swim Club. Saari was fourth at 4:24.4.

John Konrads, another Aussie, who holds the world record of 4:15.9 for the event, failed to qualify for the finals.

Rose has Saari and Konrads for competition today in the 200-meter freestyle, one of the last events on the three-day program. Schollander also is entered in the 200-meter freestyle.

Also looking for double victories today are Tom Stock and Ted Stickle, two Indiana University aces who powered their way to world records in the opening event Friday; breaststroker Chet Jastremski, another Indiana star; and Ed Spencer of North Carolina State.

Stickle shattered his own listed world record in the 400-meter individual medley with a time of 4:51.5, finishing some five meters ahead of Gerhard Hetz, the West German ace. Stickle's listed record is 4:55.6, but he has a mark of 4:51.0 pending for recognition.

Al Campana Accepts Struthers Position In Surprise Move

Dierks New West Branch Grid Coach

Ronald Dierks, a June graduate of Muskingum College, is expected to be hired as head football coach at West Branch High School when the Board of Education meets Tuesday night.

Dierks previously had been hired to serve as an assistant to new coach Al Campana this season. However, Campana is expected to be released so he can accept a teaching and an assistant coaching position in the Struthers school system this fall.

CLINTON HEACOCK, executive head of West Branch Schools, said he will recommend to the Board of Education that Campana's resignation be accepted and Dierks be moved up to the head coaching job.

Campana was an assistant to Head Coach Ralph Zurbrugg at West Branch last season. Zurbrugg resigned this summer to accept a position at Central High School in Muncie, Ind.

A teammate of Dierks' at Muskingum, Llewellyn Thompson of Reynoldsburg, has been hired as an assistant coach at West Branch. Thompson played left halfback in college. He is the only assistant coach named for the Warriors thus far.

The two new coaches will share an apartment in Damascus. Neither is married.

Physical examinations for prospective members of the 1962 West Branch High School football squads will be given Tuesday morning starting at 9 at the high school. Athletic Director Joe Tucker announced today.

EQUIPMENT WILL BE issued to sophomores, juniors and seniors at 9 a.m. Thursday. Freshmen will receive their equipment at a later date. All freshmen gridders, however, are urged to take their physicals with the upper classmen on Tuesday.

Summer grid practice starts Friday.

Opening game for the Warriors will be Sept. 7 when they travel to North Canton to meet the Vikings. West Branch's home games will be played at Salem's Reilly Stadium. The first home game will be Sept. 15 against Warren St. Mary's.

Sights Set On New Earnings Mark

Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer apparently has only Arnold Palmer to fear in his bid for the top prize in the American Golf Classic, which enters the third round today.

The powerful Pennsylvanian, threatening to make the $50,000 tournament a one-man show, charged out in front of the field by five strokes Friday with a magnificent 67-69-136 after 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

Palmer, who usually charges from behind to overwhelm his opponents, might get careless because of his commanding lead. This appears to be the only thing to prevent him from winning his eighth tournament this year and surpassing his own earnings record in one year.

Palmer has earned $71,198 this year and either first place money of $9,000 or the second prize of $4,600 would put him behind his Three strokes back of Marion Heck of Columbiana after 54 holes, Weiskopf toured the par 72 Oakhurst County Club's 6,685-yard layout in 70 shots to breeze home.

Heck, 22-year-old bachelor cook, saw his game collapse in the final round of the 36-hole marathon session as did most of the challengers in the field of 60 qualifiers.

The turning point came on the 185-yard, par 3 No. 6 hole when Heck took a double-bogey 5. That gave Weiskopf the lead he needed and he turned a three-stroke deficit into a two-stroke advantage with only nine holes to play.

Heck finished with a 39-39—78 while Weiskopf came home in 34-36—70—despite a triple-bogey six on the 165-yard No. 14.

Other local golfers participating in the final round of the tourney were Grady Metz, 80-78-81-85-384 and Richard Mahon, 78-78-83-82-321, both of Columbiana and Bill Harding, 78-81-78-77-310 of East Palestine.

Managers for the All-Stars include Pete Sanders of CIO 3816; Ron Sabo of CIO 3372 and Carl Weigand of Salem VFW. The game will go nine innings and no All-Star pitcher will hurl more than three innings.

Class E All-Star Players Selected

Fifteen players, three from each team, were selected for the Class E All-Star aggregation, it was announced today by Ralph Mancuso, league commissioner.

Those players named to the All-Star squad that will meet league-leading Famous Market on Sunday Aug. 19 are as follows: Tracy Bissell, Dick Owens and Kenny Krauss of CIO 3816; Rich Parlonieri, Bink Washington and Don Kendrick of CIO 3372; Ken Marshall, Jim Garrett and Mike DeRienzo of the Salem VFW; Phil Coseno, Melvin VanFosson and Ken Hogue of Leetonia CIO 4022; Hilton Moffett, Clyde Stoffer and Allen Phillips of E. W. Bliss.

Palmer's 34-35-69 Friday included some of the best golf he has ever played two birdies and five pars in the first holes. Palmer thought he played better Friday than he did the first round when he had a 36-31-67.

Well behind Palmer and in second place was Don January, who had a 34-36-70 after a first round 71 Thursday.

The Firestone course's massive 7,165 yards so far has proved to be too much for the rest of the field, including U.S. Open Champion Jack Nicklaus and PGA titlist Gary Player. Nicklaus started out with a 72 and then had a 34-36-70 after beginning with two birdies on his first three holes.

Player, who had a 71 Thursday, went out in 37 Friday and then closed with a 34, although he bogeyed the 18th hole.

Palmer is the only one to put together two sub-par rounds. Jim Ferrier, George Bayer and Mike Souchak all opened with 69s. But Bayer and Souchak had 74s in the second round and Ferrier had a 76.

Matching Palmer's 69 Friday were Billy Maxwell, Bob Goalby and Dow Finsterwald. Goalby moved into a tie with Nicklaus, Player, Dave Ragan and Jackie Cupit at 142, Maxwell was bracketed at 143 and Finsterwald was among those with 145 totals.

North Puts On Wild Finish; Many Say Rebels Lucky

Southerners Hold on To Edge Yankees 18-12 In 'Star Tilt'

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Southern All-Stars owned an 18-12 victory over the North today in the 17th annual Ohio High School All-Star grid game, but the consensus was the Rebels were just a bit lucky.

Sparked by quarterback Frank Stavroff of Columbus Eastmoor and halfback Tom Barrington of Lima, the downstaters piled up an 18-6 edge. Then, with less than four minutes to play, came one of the wildest finishes the school-boy classic has ever witnessed. The crippled Northerners almost pulled it out of the fire.

Yanks Thwarted
The speedy Yankees, thwarted through the first three quarters by the heavier Southerners and by their passing attack a futile weapon, caught fire in the closing minutes. They held possession of the ball the entire final 12 minutes.

Staying on the ground for 16 straight plays, the Yanks rammed their way 80 yards for a touchdown with quarterback Larry Mackey of Akron St. Vincent climaxing the drive with a one-yard scoring plunge.

With 3½ minutes to go and six points behind, the Yanks tried an onside kickoff, recovered on their own 47 and almost hit the jackpot.

With 10,000 fans screaming, the Yanks battled their way to the 5-yard line, but the clock ran out and the South had its second straight conquest.

The South went 67 yards in seven plays for its first touchdown with fullback Larry Duck of Martins Ferry scoring from the 2 yard line after hit Barrington with a 52-yard pass.

A punt fumble by the South's Dave Gillis of Middletown was recovered on the South's 16 by Glenn Hill of Alliance and Hill tied the score at 6-all five plays later with a six-yard plunge.

Southerners Tally
The aroused Southerners, with Duck going 46 yards on a trap play, struck right back. Stavroff pitched 10 yards to Lancaster

Fenwick's Bill Joos for the score which wrapped up a 62-yard, five-play drive.

All three of those touchdowns came in the opening quarter and the Rebels moved out front 18-6 in the second period as Stavroff passed nine yards to John Palmer of Kettering Fairmont. John McCuskey of Middletown had gone 38 yards in two plays just before the payoff pitch.

Late in the half Stavroff intercepted a pass on his own 6-yard line to halt a North threat. The series now stands at eight victories for the North, seven for the South and two ties.

Bob Wion of Martins Ferry, the tobacco-chewing, guitar-playing, 34-year-old head coach of the Southerners, said he aged 10 years and chewed up a whole pack of tobacco in the closing four minutes.

The North was hampered by the loss of several standouts. Ray Mathews of Akron Garfield, a top-flight back, did not get in at all because of a pregame injury and quarterback Lou Harris of Canton McKinley was sidelined by a high temperature.

Sygar Sees Action In First Half
Rick Sygar, the state's No. 1 back from Niles McKinley's champions, appeared only in the first half. While he was in the game he gained 16 yards in four tries and completed his only pass, a 29-yarder to Hill.

Duck was the leading ground-gainer, picking up 67 yards in six tries for the South. Barrington had 16 for six tries and caught two passes for 71. Mackey led the Northerners with 46 yards in 11 tries, with Joe Potko of Shaker Heights close behind with 41 in nine attempts.

The North had 15 first downs to the South's 7 and outgained the Rebels 285 yards to 273.

Browns-Lions Tilt Tonight; Eyes On Plum

DETROIT (AP) — The "new" Milt Plum knows all eyes will be on him and the other players involved in the trade between the Detroit Lions and the Cleveland Browns in their exhibition game here tonight.

But the ex-Cleveland quarterback feels it's a little soon to judge who got the best of the deal.

"I don't think anybody will be able to come to conclusions about the trade on the basis of one game," Plum said.

Plum, battling Earl Morrall for the quarterback job with the Lions, will start tonight. Dave Lloyd, also with the Browns last season, will start at the middle linebacker for Detroit. Tom Watkins, who came to the Lions in the deal, is playing behind Danny Lewis.

The Browns will start two of the players they got in the trade — quarterback Jim Nowinski and defensive end Bill Glass. The third player who came to Cleveland in the deal, Hopalong Cassidy, may see action only on punt returns.

The Lions have an over-all record of 20 victories, 6 losses and a tie against the Browns, including exhibitions.

Hot Stove Leagues

A total of 117 runs were scored on 79 hits in six Hot Stove League games played Friday.

Class E

The Salem VFW chalked up seven tallies in the fifth inning and went on to score a 12-7 win over the Leetonia CIO 4022 crew.

Pacing the seven-run rally for the winners was a three-run homer by Ed Dangler. Dave Julian, Neil Csepke, Jim Garrett and Rich Sweitzer rapped singles for the VFW in the frame.

LEETONIA ALSO HAD a seven-run stanza in the second as Ken Hogue, Bob Wilson and John Boston socked singles. The losers were aided by three walks and three errors.

Julian and Csepke paced the VFW attack with two hits each. Rich Pierin and Rich Oxley collected two hits apiece for the losers.

Class F

In the losers' bracket of the double-elimination tournament the Fisher News nine nipped Shaffer Ford 9-8 and the league champion Elks forfeited for the second time in a row as the Farmers Bank gained a win.

Shaffer Ford found itself trailing 9-1 after three frames and almost pulled the tilt out of the fire as it tallied seven runs on six hits in the last four innings.

Pacing the Fisher attack was Bob Chamberlain with a double and a single. Seven Shaffer misuses aided the Fisher cause.

Randy Martz was the big gun for Fisher's as he rapped four hits, a double and two singles coming in the seven-run rally period. Tod Chappell hammered out a triple and a single for the losers.

Class G

Hunt's Independent Union scored in every frame to roll past Scott's Sports 17-11, despite a seven-run uprising by the losers in the fourth canto.

Scott's pitchers handed the winners a total of 12 walks while the Hunt's hurler, Scotty Koenreich, delivered eight walks to the Scott's batters. A total of only nine hits were recorded with the losers collecting five and the Hunt's nine getting four.

HUNT'S TOOK A 4-0 lead in the first inning and was never headed. Kenny Kenst with a double and a single led the way for Hunt's.

John Yingling with a homer and a triple showed the way for Scott's. Jack Brantingham also socked a round-tripper for the losers.

Bricker & Bricker had little trouble with the Lions Club as Greg Riffle pitched a two-hitter in Bricker's 14-1 victory. The Lions are now 0-18 on the season.

Featuring in the 12-hit attack for the winners was Jim Wagner with three safeties. Denny Scullion, Bill Karnofel and Riffle chipped in with two hits each.

Don McKinney with a triple and Brad Lowry with a single paced the Lions nine.

Class H

League-leading Moose Lodge chalked up its 14th win in 15 outings by blanking Hobbycraft 17-0 behind Jack Detwiler's one-hitter.

Moose tallied once in the second, added six in the third and finished up with 10 in the fourth. Dave Shasteen, Jay Youtz, Bob Daly and Don Woolf rapped two hit each for the winners.

Neil Walker socked a triple in the first inning for the losers' only safety.

HOME FURNITURE tallied 12 runs in the top of the fifth canto to break a 4-4 deadlock as it rolled over Stark's Colonial 16-5.

Stark's pitchers handed out 11 walks to the Furniture batters as both teams totaled 10 hits. The winners collected six safeties and Stark's got four.

Jeff Zimmerman and Ted Todd rapped two singles apiece for the winners while Harry Ewing belted two singles and Joe Sabatino a double for the losers.

OPEN HEART SURGERY PATIENT

This Sunday, August 12th is proclaimed Suzan Seachrist day in our neighboring community, New Waterford.

She has had a rheumatic heart disease since a child and could get no insurance (they only want the profitable ones). Many of us are not sold on socialized medicine so it would be nice if we would send a contribution to the Suzan Seachrist Fund, New Waterford Bank. If we all give a little it will keep her and her parents from being in hock the rest of their lives.

Let's all consider helping a little now.

Questions—Answers

Q—Is English gaining acceptance in Japan?
A—English is the language of commerce and a required school subject.

Q—What is the origin of the term "pin money"?
A—It was once the custom in England for husbands to give wives money on New Year's Day to buy enough pins for the year.

Hoover, Truman Jovial At Library Dedication

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—It was an old-fashioned scene, warm and comforting, like the memory of an old July 4 picnic. There was the park in the little crossroads town, the speakers on the flag-draped wooden platform, the little boys wrestling in the grass and playing in the creek during the oratory, the adult crowd squinting respectfully in the bright sun, the friendly trees, the little refreshment stands set up by the church groups, the high school bands, the flag and bunting over the street, the mothers holding up their babies to see the two aging men who had been presidents of the United States. They had come to see Herbert Hoover, 88, Friday, and Harry S. Truman, 78, dedicate the Hoover Presidential Library at his birthplace.

They saw two men who had become fast friends over the years despite broad differences in their politics and personalities. They loved them both, in different ways.

They gave Hoover their respectful attention, murmured quietly over his understatement, and they laughed softly at his subtle humor. They yelped at Truman, and roared at his broad comedy.

With deep feeling they sang, "Happy Birthday, Mr. Hoover." Truman sang along, too, and when it was over, he blew a kiss at the 31st president of the United States. Several people in the crowd yelled "Hi, Harry." Nobody yelled "Hi, Herbert."

Truman praised Hoover as "one of America's greatest men," spoke of the presidential burdens and with typical gusto added: "And nobody knows better than I do, and I had one hell of a time with it."

He spoke of Hoover's great contributions as a humanitarian after two world wars. He advised youngsters in the audience to study the presidency, since one day one of them might reach the White House. Just as suddenly he called how happy he was to leave the job.

Then he was saying: "They tried to kick me out before that, but when someone tries to run over me, they know they got something to run over."

Hoover sat impassively, listening to this and other speeches which covered him with praise, his misty eyes surveying the scene of his boyhood.

When his turn came, he rose and sat on a cushion stool, folded his arms across his chest and spoke clearly and evenly and in a relaxed way, like a professor earnestly returning to the old campus for one more farewell lecture.

SPACE STATION — An engineer superintends a test inflation of a three-man space station model at Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Cleveland, Ohio. Made of rubberized fabric by Goodyear Aircraft Corp., the structure is designed for space rendezvous. It would contain bunks, galley, controls, and communications equipment around the rim, with entry at hub of wheel-like structure. NASA is conducting tests of a smaller model.

He ad-libbed about the "over-statements" made about him. He said it would take too much time to reply to each and, in his poker-faced way, added, "but I will simplify it all for you by saying they are all true."

COLUMBIANA — The executive board of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club will be hosts at the annual family picnic to be held at pavilion 2 at Firestone Park Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Each family should bring a covered dish to suit the size of the family and their own table service. Meat, rolls, butter, coffee, and a cold drink will be furnished. Mrs. Dwight Tatman is in charge of recreation after the picnic. There will be games for the children and badminton and volleyball for adults.

ALL EIGHTH GRADE instrumental music students are to report at the High School with their instruments at 6:30 p.m. Monday for the first rehearsal of the season, according to Dale Guchmand, band director.

The first marching rehearsal of the High School band will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. All band members are asked to report at that time with their instruments.

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—City officials weighed today a new request for biracial talks and Negroes planned small-group tests on segregated facilities in lieu of mass demonstrations.

Prospects of a special City Commission session with integration leaders appeared dim while citizens quietly awaited the next development in the long racial controversy in this southwest Georgia city.

In a telegram to the commission, Dr. W. G. Anderson of the Albany Movement asked for reopening of negotiations at the earliest possible date.

The telegram was sent Friday after Anderson and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. announced temporary suspension of the two "prayer pilgrimages" by Negro mothers and a group of white and Negro ministers from other states.

The demonstrations had been planned as protests to the trial of King, Anderson and two other integration leaders.

But the four Negroes were handed suspended sentences and placed on 60-day probation by Judge A. N. Durden Sr. in Recorder's Court. The move was unprecedented in this city, where King has been jailed three times in nine months.

Anderson and M. S. Page, executive secretary of the Albany Movement, later signed $400 security (property) bonds for about 25 remaining prisoners, clearing the jails after 418 arrests for demonstrations since July 11.

City Attorney Grady Rawls said during King's trial Friday that segregation laws, voided by the U.S. Supreme Court, weren't considered valid by the city.

It was Rawls' statement which the Negro leaders hopefully interpreted as signaling noninterference with desegregation efforts. Therefore, they said, they would test public facilities with limited groups.

ORDINANCE NO. 620206-11

Introduced by: Mr. Rance

BEING AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING QUARTERLY RATES FOR THE RENTAL OF PARKING SPACES IN MUNICIPAL AREAS OPERATED BY THE CITY OF OHIO.

SECTION 1.

That parking spaces shall be and hereby are permitted to be rented from the City of Salem, by corporations or by private individuals in the municipal off-street parking lots operated by the City.

SECTION 2.

That the rental of parking spaces shall be on a quarterly basis only at the rate of $12.00 per quarter.

SECTION 3.

That the rent for the first calendar quarter of 1962 shall be on a prorata basis, but that all rentals thereafter shall be on the basis of a complete quarter.

SECTION 4.

That application for rental spaces shall be made through the office of the Mayor of the City of Salem, Ohio, and that identification stickers shall be issued by the Mayor.

SECTION 5.

That identification stickers shall be issued on a quarterly basis and shall be a different color each quarter.

SECTION 6.

That this Ordinance is hereby determined to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety in the City of Salem and shall go into immediate effect for the reason that it is necessary to alleviate congestion in downtown on-street parking.
